

INTERIM MANAGEMENT/LEADERSHIP

For a variety of reasons, organizations sometimes need temporary management and leadership: a key executive leaves or is temporarily absent from the organization; a new organizational structure or strategic plan requires leadership during a transition period or project or plan implementation; a short term problem has arisen that needs immediate, experienced hands on leadership; a key executive simply needs help.

Core Corporate Consulting can help organizations facing any of these challenges by providing immediate, full or part time, temporary management and leadership that provides a seamless level of oversight. CORE has deep and valuable leadership experience in a variety of industries, including healthcare, high technology, manufacturing, non profit, and the arts in start up, emerging, and mature stages of development.

CORE's Founder has over 25 years of corporate, legal and community service experience including high level leadership roles such as General Counsel, Corporate Secretary, Executive Director, Operational Director, Board President, and Board Finance Committee Chairperson, in public, private, and non profit entities. An incisive decision maker with exceptionally strong common sense, maturity, integrity, judgment, analytical capability, resourcefulness and interpersonal skills would serve your organization during its temporary period of need. An accomplished motivator using earned authority to get people to work together to achieve dynamic results, CORE

- Understands the financial dynamics of organizations and key financial issues

- Understands a broad array of business functions and how they interrelate to drive revenue or donation growth, and profit
- Quickly and accurately understands the real culture, strengths and weaknesses of the organization

CORE Management and Leadership Experience

- Board President, Finance Chair, and member
- Performed public and private company corporate legal and secretarial functions
- Directed multimodality health care operation
- Created and managed start up stand alone mammography screening center in the inner city
- Led high profile community foundation, including programs and services, and financial oversight
- Organized and managed projects and external services
- Directed corporate headquarters legal department, provided legal services to international subsidiaries
- Negotiated, and closed mergers and acquisitions

Because of the breadth and depth of its experience, CORE is uniquely qualified to provide high quality, hands on, immediate interim management and leadership, ensuring stability, accountability, and excellence for your organization.